

Oceanian Culture I

Syllabus Number

ASI-105

Elective

2 credit

TAMAI, Noboru

1. Course Description

There are a significant number of visitors from Japan to Oceanian region, or lively other international exchanges between Japan and the region recently. It seems, however, that students from elementary school even to university in Japan have generally insufficient learning opportunity to study the region. Therefore, this course provides students with overall general knowledge on Oceania and then with specific perspective on the sub-regional studies, particularly on Australia.