

Fire Prevention Administration IV

Law and

Syllabus Number

LAW-204

Elective

2 credit

UMEHARA, Tadashi

1. Course Description

Fire prevention to protect lives and property of citizens from fires, is one of the important duties of a fire service. Moreover, fire defense equipment regulation administration is an important field of fire prevention administration.

This course aims to study about the technical standards for fire defense equipment. In addition, this course is very useful for those who take the examination for fire prevention technicians.