

Seminar I

Syllabus Number

SEM-301

Compulsory 2
credit

OSHIMO, Shigeru

1. Course Description

This seminar has research studies placing importance on locality and field. It emphasizes on group work and field work rather than independent studies. The students are expected to acquire ability to arrange toward consensus-building, ability to communicate clearly, powers of expression, planning and conception ability and way to build trust among members through in-depth studies and discussion in the seminar. The theme of this seminar is "No one can run on without joy." We will expand our minds and think and enjoy the seminar.