

Senior Seminar I

Syllabus Number

THE-401

Compulsory 2
credit

NOGUCHI, Takeshi

1. Course Description

This course aims to analyze the educational phenomena and to complete the individual graduation thesis. In class, students will be required to present the excellent research papers and discuss various issues related to the social studies. Additionally, students are also expected to make their own brief paper in connection with various issues on the social studies as an assignment. Grades will be based on regular attendance, participation, completion of assignment and periodic examination.