

心理学研究演習Ⅰ

Syllabus Number

SEM-301

Compulsory 2
credit

MURAKAMI, Kana

1. Course Description

School is where children are supported to grow up, but at the same time where they face the problems concerning study, relationship with others and adjustment to itself. From the clinical psychology or school psychology point of view, this seminar provides the chances to understand and investigate school as educational environment, where specific issues take place, and also to discuss supports for children.

Everyone experiences school life. And everyone may have a chance to be involved in school as an adult. Therefore, awareness of issues is strongly recommended.