

Reading Materials in Japanese History 3A- II

Syllabus Number

JPH-222

Compulsory Elective
2 credit

FUKAYA, Koji

1. Course Description

This class, in the latter half of the semester, will go on the same concept and method as the first half. It is to read, transrate, investigate and make presentation about the meanings of many types of Japanese documents or records written in medieval and early modern ages. So the students take part in this class will have to make some groupes and do the former work.