

Clinical Assessment of the Criminal

Syllabus Number

SOP-204

Elective

2 credit

SAIBA, Masahiro

1. Course Description

In this class, students will learn the characteristics and causes of various crimes and how effective treatment should be done to reduce each crime. I will provide information on the circumstances of the offences, the factors causing them and the applicable treatment of offenders by type of crime. I would like students to deepen their knowledge about various crimes and to participate in classes with the attitude that they think this way when they face these issues.