1. Course Description

Creating sustainable societies (SDG seminar): The Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) are a universal call-to-action to end poverty, to protect the planet, and to ensure that all people enjoy peace and prosperity. The goals aim to achieve sustainable societies worldwide. Through their research on how to create sustainable societies, students will gain insights into poverty and disparity, labor markets and employment environments, education, health and welfare, and environmental sustainability. Students are required to actively participate in group work, discussions, and extracurricular activities, as well as engage in critical-thinking and presentation skills.
