1. Course Description

This course aims to bring students into a close relationship with the local community by cooperating with social enterprises or NPOs. This course is intended for students who have already taken the course Basic Training on Social Business. This semester, students will be working to implement the plans they made in the previous semester with their group, class, and chosen social enterprise or NPO. Through project-based learning, students will explore working and living in their own ways and develop spontaneous leadership skills.
