

Community Studies

Syllabus Number

SOC-209

Elective

2 credit

LEE, Youngsook

1. Course Description

In this class, we will identify local problems from the perspective of why and how they are issues of concern. Then, we will focus on social business, which is an approach to solving social problems using business methods, and consider the solutions to these problems. In addition to lectures, discussions, and presentations, group work will be actively conducted based on the contents of the class sessions and the assignments submitted. We also plan to invite guest lecturers.