

Intercultural Communication II

Syllabus Number

FLE-102

Compulsory Elective
2 credit

TAJIMA, Hideharu

1. Course Description

Based on the theory learned in intercultural communication I, in this course, learners will study ways of coexistence with people belonging to different societies and consider ways to build a good human relationship. Case studies will be conducted in a small group while taking them up that actually occurred in contact with different cultures. In class, learners will aim at becoming able to consider mutual culture, societies, customs, values, and to take communication.