

A Social Contribution by Art I

Syllabus Number

ARL-101

Compulsory Elective
2 credit

OHNUKI, Masumi

1. Course Description

Although "art" may call it only "expressing an individual's thought or idea and feeling", but also may call it "it makes based on the thought to share", "a thought shared by making". And "art" may be considered it "A means to use for society what the individual made". A workshop is planned and practiced. In order to arouse an event, it looks for "society being able to do art", such as making a work, and it considers not only an individual expression, but also sending, and performs. The cause interchanged with other subjects of study or society is also held.