

肢体不自由教育研究

Elective 2 credit
KANAMORI, Katsuhir o

1. Course Description

In this class, students will understand the historical changes of the state of the disabilities as the subject of the education for children with physical disabilities, together with the medical and technological development.

And students will learn the present situation and the curriculum of the education for children with physical disabilities in Japan. And also students will develop practical abilities to educate the children with multiple disabilities and children who have to study at home or hospital because of severe disorder.