

Psychology of Relationships I

Interpersonal

Syllabus Number

SOP-102

Elective

2 credit

OE, Tomoko

1. Course Description

People engage in many forms of social behaviors such as aggression, helping behavior, mating behavior, and intergroup discrimination. The aim of this course is to understand major situational and personal factors that affect these social behaviors from a social psychological perspective. Students are expected to acquire knowledge and empirical techniques required to interpret studies related to these areas.