

Comparative Studies in Archaeology I Syllabus Number ARC-213
Elective 2 credit
AKASHI, Chie

1. Course Description

If you are writing a paper on the process of spread and establishment of food-producing economy in Japan, you are not just investigating Japanese prehistory but you are exploring human history. This lecture will introduce comparative approach of archaeology of all over the world dealing common topics concerning human history. We will have students' presentations and discussion at the end of the semester.