

Politics II

Syllabus Number POL-202
Elective 2 credit
MIYATA, Tomoyuki

1. Course Description

As an introduction to political science, this course will examine the political process by focusing on political actors, such as political parties, interest groups, bureaucracy, media, social media, and other related actors. Reference books and various sources will be introduced in class.