

International Politics I

Syllabus Number

INR-301

Elective

2 credit

MIYATA, Tomoyuki

1. Course Description

This course will explain the historical development of international politics since the 17th century. Also, this course will provide an overview of important theories in this field, such as realism, liberalism, and constructivism. Reference books and various sources will be introduced in class.