1. Course Description

'Youth' is the casual word, which can be found on the newspaper, on TV, or in our everyday conversation. However, our experience as youth and images of youth based on our experience have a great variety, because our life events are quite different according our age , society , and various factors. The word of 'youth' is therefore quite a difficult but still interesting. The aim of this course is to think about social problems in Japanese society from the perspective of Youth. The evaluation is based on the following measure: (1) attendance and participation in the discussion (40%) (2) presentation in the class (40%), (3) final report (20%).
