

アジアの国際関係 I

Syllabus Number	INR-205
Elective	2 credit
MICHELIN, Franck

1. Course Description

The topic of this class will be: "The international relations in East Asia: history and today". The first semester will be about the period between the Antiquity and the start of the modern time when the second will be about the modern time till today. International relations constitute a very broad topic, but we will focus on two of them: the relations inside of the region, and the relations between East Asia and the outside world.

Among the 15 classes given, 14 will be given on the campus and 1 (the 13th) will be given on demand, through the LMS of the university.