

Seminar I

Syllabus Number

SEM-301

Compulsory 2
credit

OCHIAI, Ryo

1. Course Description

Considering the recent strengthening economic tie between Japan and other Asian economies, we are unable to discuss the Japanese economy without considering its relationship with other Asian countries. As a first step for understanding the Asia-Japan relationship, it is useful to understand the current economic situation of the Asian countries. This course thus aims at facilitating the understanding of the Asian economy at regional and national level as well as learning fundamental theory on economic development.