

現代経済の課題AIII (Contemporary Economic Issues AIII)

Syllabus Number ECP-325
Elective 2 credit
NAKAGAKI, Keiichi

1. Course Description

Global demand for infrastructure is enormous with rapid urbanization and economic growth of emerging countries specially in Asia. Japanese companies are capitalizing these opportunities and Japanese Government's policy is to support them as important growth strategy.

Through the course, analysis on several business fields of infrastructure system export is made based on my working experiences.

The goal of the course is that students understand characteristics of important business fields of infrastructure system export as well as strength/challenge of Japanese companies active in these fields and can explain in the report/presentation at the end of semester.