

Contemporary Legal Topics I

Syllabus Number

NFL-301

Elective

2 credit

NISHI, Akira

1. Course Description

Society is moving by law. For the students, you may not yet have a feeling, but I think that if you become a social worker in near future, you will experience legal problems in every aspect of work and daily life.

In this lesson, students will learn useful legal knowledge in the real world centering on problems that they will see in the work and everyday life and will actually come across. I would like to try to make it easy to understand for beginners of law.