1. Course Description

This teaching methods course is designed for students hoping to become secondary school teachers who teach Social Studies(Shakai-ka) and Civics(Komin-ka). Students will review the teaching and learning theory and explore the methods for teaching class by writing lesson or teaching plan(Gakusyushidou-an), and giving a trial lesson.

Through the discussion and reflection about their own practice teaching, students also learn practical perspectives of social studies and civic education: development education, citizenship education, ESD, etc.
