

Sophomore: Reading and Research in Psychology I

Syllabus Number

PSY-201

Compulsory 2
credit

KIHARA, Kumiko

1. Course Description

This is an introductory seminar with reading and discussion about the textbook on the Clinical Developmental Psychology (CDP). The goal of this course is to acquire basic knowledge about the psychological support services provided on the field of the CDP and enable to understand the fundamental points of the developmental psychological services. Each student will be required to work in teams and participate in constructive discussion.