

International Finance I

Syllabus Number

MOF-303

Elective

2 credit

FUTAMURA, Hideo

1. Course Description

This course is designed to introduce basic theories of International Finance. International Finance has been regarded as one of the applied economics using analytical methods which developed on the basis of micro and macroeconomics. This course mainly focuses on the determination of foreign exchange rate, balance of payments, historical overview of the international currency system such as the gold standard, the fixed exchange rate system, the floating exchange rate system. Students are expected to take care of daily news of international economy and study the factors of these problems of international finance by using the idea of this course. Students will be able to improve their skills by solving self exercise and homework with LMS.