

Sports Sociology

Syllabus Number SPS-211
Elective 2 credit
SHIMIZU, Masanori

1. Course Description

This lecture study about basic sports sociology of modern society. We consider about social function of sports and how to contribute for our society development. This lecture is constructed by following social domains.

- ① sports history of modern western society
- ② sports and modern economy
- ③ sports and politics
- ④ sports and community
- ⑤ sports and modern culture

Every domain is very complex and change very dynamic, so, we must make clear its structure and moving process. Finally we gain the deep understanding of sports social function that is very important culture for developing modern society.