

Senior Seminar II

Syllabus Number

THE-402

Compulsory 2
credit

NOGUCHI, Takeshi

1. Course Description

This course aims to analyse the educational phenomena and to complete the individual graduation thesis. In class, students will be required to present the excellent research papers and to discuss various issues related to the social studies. Additionally students are also expected to make their own brief paper in connection with various issues on the social studies as a assignment. Grades will be based on regular attendance, participation, completion of assignment and periodic examination. Students must participate in this class after they have already learnt Seminar : Education I in Spring Term.