

Senior Seminar I

Syllabus Number

THE-401

Compulsory 2 credit

SATOU, Takaki

1. Course Description

This seminar-required course- will delve into the theoretical and professional research topics that students in the School of Education have been developing in their previous learning, or will explore their own vision of the future or their views on education and society.

Through the course, students should be able to do the following :

- (1) Recognize and recall major terms and concepts of educational studies.
- (2) Describe and explain in detail and objectively current educational or social issues of their own interests.