

Seminar I

Syllabus Number

SEM-301

Compulsory 2
credit

MURAKAMI, Aya

1. Course Description

This seminar is designed for students to learn labor law and labor policies of Japan. One of characteristics of the Japanese labor law is that case law has played significantly important role. Case law has developed to adjust statutes to the reality of labor relations in Japan. So, in this seminar, I plan to select leading cases concerning labor law. Students are expected to research and report on the assigned cases and participate in discussion.