

Development
III (Development Economics III)

Economics

Syllabus Number

ECP-321

Elective

2 credit

KARIKOMI, Syunji

1. Course Description

This course will be an introductory class on Development Economics and the Asian economy. In Development Economics III, we will learn the basic theories of Development Economics and become able to analyze the problems of developing countries such as poverty, the dual economy, and industrialization. Students will learn technical terms and theoretical framework of modern economics. We will determine some details of the course after the first meeting. This course will be held in English.