1. Course Description

This seminar aims to write a master's thesis under a teacher's direction. Each student conducts the research based on the research proposal for the master's thesis which s/he drew up in the master's first year. During this seminar, s/he conducts a survey (e.g., questionnaire method and interview method), analyzes the data from the survey, verifies if the hypotheses are supported, and addresses the point at hand. Finally, s/he reviews the research and discusses prospects.
