

Financial Engineering I

Syllabus Number

MOF-401

Elective

2 credit

IN, Yoho

1. Course Description

This course will study the fundamentals of financial engineering in an easy-to-understand manner and learn about the mechanism of derivative products throughout the year, along with Financial Engineering II of Fall term. Understand basic interest rate theory and fixed income securities and aim to be able to calculate evaluation price using price evaluation method of financial products etc under certain conditions.