

Public Economics I

Syllabus Number	PFP-301
Elective	2 credit
HASHIMOTO, Satoru

1. Course Description

This course aims to study two main points.

First, we discuss government policies and regulations in terms of micro economics. Second, we consider the solutions about serious issues that Japanese public sector has.

In this course, we study and consider government policies at the national levels including fiscal and monetary policies. Therefore, students should have a large stock of knowledge about micro/macro economics theory and basic mathematics.