

Introduction to International Social Service 1

Syllabus Number

SWS-101

Elective

2 credit

KAWAGUCHI, Jun

1. Course Description

As globalization progresses, problems that were once solved by a single country (environment, conflict, trade, education, food, etc.) can no longer be addressed without multilateral cooperation. Under these circumstances, the importance of international volunteering is increasing. In this class, we will deepen our understanding of issues that need to be considered beyond national borders, and the role that volunteers should play as leaders of civil society.