

子どもと造形

Syllabus Number

ESS-218

Elective

1 credit

OHNUKI, Masumi

1. Course Description

Understand why children's modeling expression is necessary, and develop lessons based on that. For that purpose, experience the modeling expression activities performed by children and acquire the basic knowledge of modeling education. Think about the lesson content from the child's point of view by improving the ability of ideas and ideas. The analysis and verbalization that accompanies it will be summarized in a portfolio. Acquire the knowledge and communication skills necessary for teaching infant modeling education through group work and group discussions. You will be able to be aware of various things about your child's production process and activities, acquire the skills to provide appropriate support for them, and be able to provide better time to your children. To do so, acquire knowledge of activities and educational environments suitable for the development of children, students will proactively and actively understand the senses and inspirations of children, and how to utilize the knowledge they have cultivated in modeling expressions. Be able to think about it.