

Mass Communication I

Syllabus Number SOC-105
Elective 2 credit
KINOSHITA, Koichi

1. Course Description

We engage in various types of communication every day. In recent years, communication via SNS has been increasing, while mass communication has decreased. Currently, the mass media are our main information source, telling us what is going on around the globe. As members of the “mass” of people who receive this information, we must reassess the “society” and “world” we live in from the perspective of mass communications. In this lecture course, some of the work will be done in pairs. Share your opinions and ideas with other participants.