In grammar lessons, students are often asked to read French phrases, accurately breaking down the grammatical structure of the text, giving the meaning of each word and its Japanese translation. However, it is also important to be able to read long texts at a fast pace in order to improve your ability to understand French grammatical structures in a certain context. In this course, students will read French texts and learn how to study effectively in order to improve their understanding of multiple French grammatical structures in context. In order to achieve this, students will be exposed to various genres of texts written in French.
