

Labor Related Laws and Regulations I

Syllabus Number

SOL-307

Elective

2 credit

NAKANO, Masayuki

1. Course Description

A student will learn the basic idea and content of labor-related laws and regulations including Labor Standards Law.

The lecture will be provided on the assumption that a student will take a job such as health or human resources management.

The completion of this course is a necessary condition if a student wants to be qualified as "First-grade Health Officer" defined under Industrial Safety and Health Law.