

Spacial Seminar in Japanese Culture 3A (Entertainment)

TAKAHISA, Mai

Elective 2 credit

1. Course Description

The aim of this class is to conduct research in folklore (fieldwork, literature review) and solve problems based on one's own interests based on research methods in folklore (comparative research, regional research, etc.).

The problems will be limited to those related to performing arts, and will be designed to contribute to their own research.

In the first semester, group work will be conducted with students who have a common problem. In the group work, students will discuss the problem, research methods, research methods, etc., and prepare for their presentations.