

Economics II

Syllabus Number

ECO-102

[IV]

Elective 2

credit

INOUCHI, Masatoshi

1. Course Description

The purpose of this class is to acquire the ability to analyze actual economic movements while using the basic theory of economics. Therefore, the trends of the Japanese economy and the world economy will be explained using basic data. At the same time, the current policy issues that are occurring under the major trends such as digitalization of economy and society, declining birthrate and aging population, and globalization will be examined.