

日本概論 I

Syllabus Number

SOS-101

[IV]

Elective

2

credit

HIRATA, Yoshimi

1. Course Description

In order to live and study in Japan with Japanese students, it is necessary to learn about Japan's society and economy, as well as Japan's position in the world. Regardless of your major, you must learn about the basic characteristics of Japan's land, population, politics, economy, finance, and industry to deepen your studies. We will also examine historical events from the perspective of the world and Japan. There will be a lot of discussion, comparing them with the knowledge and views of history, geography, and society that you have learned in your home countries and regions.