1. 授業の概要(ねらい)

History of Economics III investigates the history of economic thought mainly from Adam Smith to J.M. Keynes and after, focusing the basic issues of market and state, economics and ethics, growth and welfare. It largely deals with Adam Smith and the classical political economy, Malthus, Ricardo, and J.S. Mill; the historical school and Marx; Marshall, Pigou and the welfare economic studies; Keynes, Beveridge and the British welfare state; and Fukuda Tokuzo and the Japanese economic thought.

History of Economics III will focus more on Adam Smith and the classical political economy; and History of Economic Thought IV will do more on the neo-classical school (Marshall, Pigou) and Keynes.

2. 授業の到達目標

The main objectives are to acquire the basic knowledge of the history of economic thought from Adam Smith to Keynes and after, and to get to know how to access economics and economic thought from historical point of view.
