1. 授業の概要(ねらい)

This is one of the classes of the Japan Explore Program, and conducted in English. The class provides a unique chance with Japanese students with English competence and international students to interact, discuss, and work together in a collaborative setting. We will practice English presentation skills by performing small presentation, and learning useful expressions from movies, speeches, presentation, or news. First, we will briefly review the basic definition of “culture”, “communication”, “intercultural communication”, or “non-verbal communication that were covered in Japan Research Seminar I. Second, we will learn basic concepts needed to prepare for intercultural communication, such as stereotypes, prejudices, discrimination, language and culture, non-native speakers of Japanese, Japanese language education, English education, and World Englishes. The students will make a final presentation about the topics of their interest.

2. 授業の到達目標

1To be able to use English to discuss and critically analyze Japanese culture.

2To be able to explore cultural and social problems in Japan.
