

Aviation English 2

Syllabus Number 2E217
Special Subjects
Elective 1 credit
UNEMOTO, Nobumasa

1. Course Description

The standard textbook for the radio operators' training sessions is to be used in this course. This course is related to diploma policy DP2.

2. Course Objectives

Student pilots will study Aviation English needed to obtain a license of Aeronautical Radio Operator.

3. Grading Policy

Active attitude to the class is evaluated. Students' comprehension will be checked by Q and A.

Ratio for grade is: quizzes 50%, hearing tests 50%.

4. Textbook and Reference

Textbook
[English for Aeronautical Radio Operator]
[AIM-j](latest edition)

5. Requirements(Assignments)

Look up English terms used for Air Traffic Control to improve the image of Aviation Radio.
This course needs more than 30 hours for preparation and review. Please spend more than 1 hour to review for each class.

6. Note

Appropriately, students will have quizzes and hearing tests.
The result of these tests will be reflected on the grading.

7. Schedule

- [1] Flight progress and ATC English
- [2] ITU(International Telecommunication Union)and ICAO
- [3] Radio Law and Civil Aviation Law
- [4] Communication services/Language and Terms
- [5] Example of Communication services
- [6] How to Communicate
- [7] Summary of Communication
- [8] Distress message and Urgency message
- [9] Air Traffic Control
- [10] Example of Air Traffic Control
- [11] Telecommunication Procedures
- [12] Exercise of Radio Telecommunication

- [13] Role play of Radio Telecommunication
- [14] Emergency Procedures
- [15] Communication Navigation Systems and Summary