Special Subjects

Elective 2 credit

Each Staff

1. Course Description

Internship refers to students engage in their own specialties while in school and have work experience related to future careers. In this course, students will think about their own expertise and interests of their profession outside the university and experience practical activities in companies and organizations. Through these experiences, students aim to have a clearer understanding of their motivation and direction for future learning and research.

For the diploma policy corresponding to this course, please refer to the subject table of each department.

2. Course Objectives

Students enter enterprises / organizations in the form of on-site practical trainee and experience actual activities. For this reason, students are required to attend all classes in advance before participating the internship.

After the internship, students are required to submit reports, practical journals, etc., presentations at the reporting meeting, submitting the post-practice reports.

By participating in the internship, students will be able to understand how their expertise can be utilized in future work. Students can also obtain indicators to consider their course selection in the future.

3. Grading Policy

In addition to the practical training, students must submit practical training reports, practical journals, and after-reports. Students will be evaluated in a practical training report (20%), announcement at the internship presentation session after training (40%), and final report (40%).

Feedback on the whole will be given in the last class.

4. Textbook and Reference

Reference

Required materials will be distributed during the class.

5. Requirements(Assignments)

Students should be aware of "getting a job in the future" and gather various information through internships to understand interests, concerns, values, and abilities to work. Also, Student should think concretely about what kind of work the student wants to do at the outset when it comes to society. After the class, students should read the prints and materials that will be distributed every time, and prepare as necessary for the next (about 1.5 hours). Students are required to select companies that they wish to work as a intern and conduct company research (about 1.5 hours).

6. Note
